

Free up Your Behaviour Management Time and Teach More!

Dr Christine Richmond presents a simple yet generic approach to classroom management. The strategies apply across classes from pre-school to the final years of secondary education. No matter what behaviour management approach you currently use, the content will help you to develop additional ideas and strategies for:

- Minimising managing time and maximising learning time during lessons
- Defusing student power plays
- Responding intelligently to provocative and challenging behaviour
- Gaining (or regaining) assertive learning leadership in the classroom
- Recovering rapidly from stressful situations
- Designing a minimalist management plan, and
- Reflecting on your current practices.

Dr Richmond's pragmatic, minimalist approach provides a clear, no-frills pathway through the complex maze of behaviour management advice that is currently available.
